Mindy,

This "production" answers none of the RFP's. It is hard to see how (1) a blank sign in log, (2) a Micron NDA, and (3) a Spansion NDA respond to any of the trade secret claims asserted by Verigy in its 2019 statement that you said would be produced last week.

Verigy was officially requested to produce the documents in mid-December and, of course, was on notice that such would need to be produced as of the beginning of the litigation. I can only assume at this point that the delay is intentional.

Please inform me when all of the responsive documents will be produced.

Kevin
